► Foreign financial account and asset information

This section applies to taxpayers who have a financial account or financial asset located outside of the U.S. and/or signature or other authority over a foreign financial account. A financial account includes bank and other financial accounts. If the aggregate value of all of your accounts exceeded US$10,000 at any time during the year, complete the following:

Name and address of financial institution	Account type (bank/securities/other)	Account number	Maximum value during the year*	Currency	Held separately (S) or jointly (J) or signature authority (SA)	Joint owner's name(s), address, and U.S. taxpayer identification number (if any)

* Please provide the highest value at any time during the year in the foreign currency.

** Treasury guidance presently (Form 114, Report of Foreign Bank and Financial Accounts) defines a foreign financial account as any bank, securities, securities derivatives, or other financial instruments account. These accounts generally encompass any accounts in which the assets are held in a commingled fund and the account owner holds an equity interest in the fund (mutual fund). The term also means any savings, demand, checking, deposit, time deposit, debit card, or credit card maintained with a financial institution or other person engaged in the business of a financial institution. A financial account also includes a commodity futures or options account, an insurance policy with cash surrender value (whole life), and an annuity policy with cash surrender value.

Please note this information is provided as guidance and is subject to change. Current Treasury guidance should be considered when determining the filing requirements for Form 114.
